SPIRIT OF YOUTH . . .

Vancouver College is well known for its Fighting Irish Spirit. This spirit is portrayed in our school symbol the Fighting Finnegan. Like our mascot, our school is also a little guy with a big punch. This punch has many forms, whether they be academic, athletic or artistic. There is more to school spirit than dressing up in wacky clothes on spirit days, or cheering on the team at a game. There is also the spirit of learning, achieving, maturing and enjoyment of life. The spirit of V.C., this sense of being involved in great things, is born out of spirit of our youth, out of the energy, enthusiasm, and desire to do, to work, to become . . . the best we can be. We, the staff of the 1985 Collegian, dedicate this book to this spirit, the spirit of youth.

The Road Goes Ever on and on,
Down from the Door Where It Began
Now Far Ahead the Road Has Gone,
And I Must Follow, If I Can
Pursuing It with Weary Feet,
Until It Joins Some Larger Way,
Where Many Paths and Errands Meet.
And Whither Then?
I Cannot Say.

MSGR. T.N. NICHOL, D.P.

60TH ANNIVERSARY

In April of 1985, Msgr. T.M. Nichol celebrated the sixtieth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood. For about forty of those years, as pastor of Sts. Peter and Paul's Parish, he was directly concerned with the spiritual welfare of our students. When he retired from active parish work in 1982, it seemed only natural that the College should become his home, and he moved into the Brothers' Residence.

Teachers and alumni will long remember Msgr. Nichol's knack of catching the student body's attention during his homilies at school masses by telling stories to back up his points. All his life he has been a young person's priest -- both as confidant and friend -- many former students who were his alter servers enjoyed holidays with their parish priest in the Okanagan. On a regular basis, he still often takes over religion classes and fields students' questions about religion or life in general.

The Collegian offers its congratulations and thanks to one of College's greatest friends on the occasion of his diamond jubilee.

BR. P.P. MCNIVEN, C.F.C.

Brother Paul McNiven was appointed principal of Vancouver College in the spring of 1983 and took office early in July. Both teachers and students found that their new principal was a truly spiritual man, dedicated to the ideals of Catholic education and ready to promote a spirit of real scholarship in the school. Everyone who met him found him to be a real Christian gentleman in every sense of the word, kind and considerate and easy to deal with -- although he could be very firm when a matter of principle was at stake. However, at the beginning of his second year in office he was struck by a recurring health problem, and found it necessary to tender his resignation to the Christian Brothers' Provincial Council. After a restful convalescence and a rapid return to good health Brother McNiven is now ready to assume his new responsibilities as Headmaster of St. Joseph's Academy, West Indies.

BR. MCHUGH'S MESSAGE

It is the close of another school year and a time worthy of reflection. Hopefully, it has been a year of growth in every way - physically, socially, intellectually and spiritually. That has been our motivation at Vancouver College, and we trust it has been yours, too. Our hope and prayer is that your years at Vancouver College have helped you to see yourself a little more clearly and developed in you a deeper understanding of the respect for human nature. This is the essential, continual part of the educational process and without it there is no education. Congratulations and best wishes from the Vancouver College School Community to those who are graduating this year. Our prayer for you at this time is that God will bless your sincere efforts during your life's journey with His peace and happiness. The school motto is: "Semper Fidelis" - ALWAYS FAITHFUL. Fidelity is an admirable quality in a person. Be faithful in your response to your God and to the needs of others.

God bless you and yours
BROTHER JOHN F. MCHUGH, c.f.c.

C'EST LA VIE!

This class is an easy-going class that is fun loving. This close-knit group was quite active in participation in various school activities. At least half the class is involved in school athletics and the rest in club's of some sort. President Bill Bailey led this happy-go-lucky group along with Marty Lopez, his vice-president, and Eddie Wood the secretary treasurer. The killer missions was led by John Kilpatrick. To sum it up, the slogan which best describes the class is C'est la vie!

DESIRE

Homeroom 215 was unique in many ways. Following the leadership of president Jay Alvarez and vice-president John McGrandle, the class showed a desire to increase academically and spiritually. This class was comprised of a group of hard working students who in the spirit of the College always thought of others. A great deal of enthusiasm was generated for all the school's sports events and a mutual respect was present between the students and their teachers.

‘INVOLVED’

The key word for class 303 is ‘involved’. We strive to be involved in all functions of Vancouver College; intellectual, spiritual, athletics, and social functions. We support the school, as best we can in every way.

We try to improve the school through our participation. In our class we have people involved in football, cross-country, basketball, the Collegian, and the various school clubs. Our class supports the missions, attends games and dances. We study hard and play hard.

Our class gives our best, 110% everyday, in the hope that our effort and involvement will make a difference in our school. Homeroom 303 is under the strong leadership of Brad Bentz (PRES), Len Diplock (VICE) and Ward Pervan (SEC)

'CONSCIENTIOUS'

Our class of grade eights is stocked highly with first year Irish. Many were still in awe of their new school when we had our first VC dance. Room 213 was well represented and all were left smiling.

The second major event of this year was, of course, the "Irish Miles" walkathon. It was an experience for both the rookie and the veterans. Despite the slight detour taken, most felt the effect of the distance, but it was definitely enjoyed by all.

On a lower level, we got quite a good response to the intramurals. We lost a class game to room 210, 3-2. Our class is quite a well rounded group and quite athletic and still academically successful.

UNIFIED

Homeroom 113 was a mixture of individuals coming together as one class under the leadership of Bro. MacKenzie. Working toward a unified community, they were involved in every aspect of school life including student council, clubs and most sports without sacrificing academic achievement. The class was represented in student council by Matt Clarke (pres.), John Donald (vice-pres.) and Pius Ho (sec.), who always tried to work with their class' best interest in mind. The students of 113 see this year as having been successful and look for success and achievement in the coming grad year.

A MOSAIC

A mosaic of different types of people was present in Homeroom 206, held together by Mr. Devenport. The class was one that was involved in almost all aspects of the school including most sports, student council and various clubs. The class was represented in student council by Adrian Archambault (p), Drew Gallacher (vp) and Dave Bennett (s/t). A truly different and interesting group of students. They were able to get things done and strived to do them in ways that had not been done before.

EAGER

This group of individuals is probably the most enthusiastic, eager and gifted class College has ever seen!!! It is a terribly well rounded class with it's share of athletes, intellectuals, and individuals who display both qualities. They are a cooperative, hard working class who are always striving for excellence. With the prompting and enthusiasm of their homeroom teacher, Bro. English, they will no doubt achieve that pride and excellence throughout the year.

DEDICATED

Homeroom 101 consists of a group of students who are dedicated, collectively, to a life of humor and enjoyment in the class. Despite the illustrious leadership of Mr. Adams, the class seems to trend toward independence. Mr. Adams is useful, now and then, for the more "important" activities. The president is Allan Boyce. The vice president and secretary are Damian Murphy and Philip Alexy. They provide good examples for the rest of the class. Sometimes, however the students of the class provide them with some good examples of their own.

PRIDE

This highly enthusiastic group of individuals are bound by one common aspect, they are all part of class 94. Other than this, it is rather difficult to describe this group collectively due to the large variety of ideas within the group.

Class 94 participates regularly in athletics, whether it be on an organized team, representing the school, or in intramurals. Class 94 also boasts one of the highest mission totals in the school. The chief reason for this avid participation in extra curricular activities and uncommon enthusiasm is their Pride. Pride in the school, pride in their class, and pride in themselves.

INVOLVED

Homeroom 214, led by president Geoff Mortimer-Lamb, vice-president Philip Doebeli, and sec-tres. Wesley Fong, has been very generous in it's contributions to the missions this year. The students have varied talents, but they are willing to give everything they have. This shows in their missions and in their intramural games. Though the students may kid around and bug each other every so often, they seem to get along with each other without too many problems. All of this led to a class spirit which is enthusiastic, and gave the students pride in their class. The students have grown this year, and many thanks go to Bro. Basil, who helped them along the way.

ENTHUSIASTIC

Homeroom 212 is a very lively bunch that is interested in class activities and school spirit. Our spirit shows through in our enthusiastic support of the missions and a daily total which is quite high. Our homeroom is a bunch of nice, enthusiastic and supportive guys. The year will be an enjoyable one.

CARING

"Caring" best describes the spirit of homeroom 91. The class is one of the best at raising money for those in need.

Besides being very caring, its members also take part in a variety of sports. Those who don't take part directly in sports activities show their enthusiasm at football games and pep-rallies. This mixture of enthusiasm, concern for others, and involvement, make the homeroom one to be proud of.

The class officers for homeroom 91 are Allan Frankland (president), Chris Ascher (vice president), Blair Hirtle (treasurer), Hannes von Stefenelli, (missions promoter) and Glen Davies (intramural rep.)

Grade 6 is a truly dynamic, competitive, caring group of children. As an example, their walkathon results placed them No. 1 in the school in dollar amount raised - about $2,200.00. They are developing quickly in maturity as evidenced by sound work habits. They constantly push each other to become better individually. Overall a great group of children to teach and a great "social" group!!

GRADUATES

THE TWELVE YEAR MEN

The sixty-first graduating class of Vancouver College includes five twelve-year men. These are Patrick Guzman, Douglas McBride, Ryan Mawhinney, Peter Tsiandoulas and Anthony Szeto. Originally grade one pupils of Mrs. Carmack in 1974, these five young men have gradually grown and matured over the years. This growth and maturity has led them to feel a deep sense of pride and honour for their school. They show their appreciation by getting involved in all aspects of school life. It is without a doubt, that they have enjoyed themselves and wish to express a "Heartfelt Thanks" to all who have contributed to their development in any way. They are better Christians for having been at Vancouver College for the past twelve years and say good-bye and thanks.

PATRICK HENSON GUZMAN

Pat is one of the few rarities to have mysteriously endured twelve years at Vancouver College. During his stay, he has participated in basketball, track and field and soccer, while earning his varsity letter. One of his biggest highlights came in grade twelve by serving as school president of the Student Council. When not in the gym or on the track, the 'GOOSE' can be found on the slopes, at the beach and listening to music and going out on weekends. His future plans are to further his education at a university.

RYAN MAWHINNEY

Ryan is one of the five men who have been in this institution for twelve years. He has participated in basketball till grade nine and football for all his high school years. He enjoys music as his cassette and ticket stub collection will prove. Ryan enjoys driving and just simply hanging around. He hopes the best for the future for the grads of 85.

DOUG MCBRIDE

Doug has been coming to VC for the past twelve years. During his stay he has enjoyed the atmosphere and the people of the school. Doug's hobbies are music and waterskiing. After graduation, Doug plans to attend B.C.I.T.

ANTHONY SZETO

A twelve-year man, Anthony has enjoyed every moment growing up with Vancouver College. He will always remember fondly the dedication and example of the Christian Brothers and staff as well as the scores of friendships made with fellow Collegians. During grammar school Anthony extremely enjoyed playing biddy basketball and being the teacher's pet. In high school he participated in the Collegian, Mrs. Naas' Pen Pal Club and the Tour de France during his graduation year. Anthony enjoys skiing, tennis, high tech sports cars, and listening to the Boss. After high school Anthony heads east to study after which he hopes to pursue a career in law or business. He also hopes to retire at thirty and then sail around the world in a yacht. Semper Fedelis!

PETER TSIANDOULAS

Peter came to Vancouver College twelve years ago. Since then, he has participated in football, a musical, the Voice, and this year's darkroom staff. Among Peter's fond memories are disciplinary sessions with Bro. Duff and Math 10 with Bro. Cull. In his spare time Peter can be found relaxing to music, cycling, skiing or supporting the school. Sean has been an active participant of the basketball team ever since he got here, playing center and forward on the varsity squad. Despite his high scoring games, he might be best known for his famous campaign speech in May of 1984. Teachers that he seems to get along with include Mr. Crame, Mr. Sponza, Bro. JONATHAN PAUL BOULTON

J.B., as his friends call him, has been commuting to Vancouver College from Aldergrove for the past six years. Jonathan has not participated in as many extra curricular activities as he would like to, because of the great distance he has to travel back and forth between home and school. But he found time during his final year when he helped to work on the yearbook. He has no immediate goals after he graduates, except to prepare himself academically for post secondary education. Jonathan would just like to use these closing words to thank the Brothers and teachers for an enjoyable and extraordinary stay at the College.

RICHARD RAYMOND BREAKELL

Richard and his family moved to Vancouver from Toronto in '75, coming to V.C. in grade 7. After attending a number of elementary schools, he has been a member of the V.C. golf team ever since it's formation in '81. Despite the fact that Richard has lived in nine houses in 16 short years, adapting to changes in environment is never easy and the transition from high school to university will be no different. However, with support from parents and friends, only good can result.

When he is not cramming for Algebra tests, he can be found doing one of his favorite hobbies which range from target shooting to mastering his skills of Kung Fu. His favorite pastime at school this year was to eat lunch with the gang out on the swings. Following graduation Joseph plans to attend university in the faculty of Law. Since grade 8, Mark has engaged in the athletics program; from track in grade 8 to the championship soccer team in grade 12. When not in school can be found behind the wheel of his '65, custom 100, Valiant. Mark's future plans involve attending U.B.C. in the field of medicine although he's currently suffering from a rare MELignant disease.

LEIGHTON WAYNE DUERRE

Leighton has been trekking in from the boonies of North Delta for three years now. He's found it much easier since perfecting the art of sleeping while standing on the bus. He wasn't very involved in school activities but changed that in his final year, by joining a number of clubs, highlighted by his presence on the yearbook staff. Leighton has no plans for immediately furthering his education, but simply intends to travel to Europe for "as long as my money holds out". He hopes this write-up is long enough, as he is sincerely tired of short jokes.

CRAIG STUART DUGGAN

Craig has been attending VC for the past 5 years. During his 5 year stay, he participated in football in his junior years and then made the switch over to wrestling in his final 2 years. When not attending school, Craig can be found skiing, working on the Jet Star II or just having a good time. Following graduation, Craig plans on furthering his education and pursuing the field of business in either S.F.U., B.C.I.T. or one of the regional colleges.

MARK LUKA ERCEG

For the last five years, Mark has migrated from Ladner to V.C. Mark, influenced by his parents, came to V.C. in grade eight and hasn't regretted it yet. He says there is something about the place that he will remember for a long time to come, but he doesn't know just what it is. Mark was in the school band, stage band and musical. Marks interests are playing trumpet, piano, composing music, listening to his stereo, playing soccer, basketball and skiing. On his weekends, he is out having a good time with a bunch of friends at a movie or dance. Once Mark graduates, he plans to go into university and continue in a science program.

JIM FAGAN

Jim has been wondering the halls of VC since 8th grade, commuting daily from the far-off land of White Rock. During his stay here, he has kept busy with his schoolwork and activities like the school's hockey team, the minor officials, the yearbook, the Voice staff and the band. In his spare time his interests are mainly in music, both listening to it and the bands that perform it. As for future plans Jim plans to continue into college or university, possibly in the fields of English or Sociology.

SEAN ALASTAIR FAIRLEY

Sean came to the College in grade seven. His primary interest was soccer. He has played on several teams outside the school and also this year's varsity soccer team with Mr. Devenport. At the College, Sean constantly fought the challenge of staying awake. Sean would like to thank everybody for all the attention and care over the years.

RODDY JARROD JONATHAN FONG

Roddy came to Vancouver College in grade eight from St. Anthony's in West Vancouver. Since then, he has enjoyed being a part of student council, the tennis team and the 1984 French Tour. In 1986, Stuart plans to be in Mexico for the World Cup, cheering Scotland onto victory!

PAT GYNANE

Pat came to V.C. in 1983 from the city of Edmonton to become a boarder. After fulfilling this life long ambition he settled into school life while developing an interest in school and boarder sports. Some other interests of Pat include mocking the Canucks, skiing, jumping fences and facing off with sprinklers. His ambitions are to help Rob find first gear, Kevin a legal companion, Fred a wardrobe, Gerny a way out, and to move Edmonton south once he is forced to leave V.C. Pat hopes to attend the U of A in an as of yet undetermined faculty.

GEOFF HAMELIN

Geoff came to V.C. at the start of grade 11 as a resident student. He has enjoyed his stay. He participated in varsity football for one year but was unable to play in his final season as a result of a rather unfortunate injury. Duff, as he is known by his classmates, enjoys the easy life, skiing, playing baseball, relaxing. Geoff's future plans include heading south to play baseball and "hopefully" furthering his education by attending a college or university. Someday, he hopes to play proball.

ROBERT HOWARD WYDHAM HARDING

Rob Harding came to Vancouver College from the Inevitable Rain forests of the Queen Charlotte islands. At first Rob found life as a Resident quite different from his real home but as he adjusted to it and discovered some of his future good friends, he managed to fit in quite well. Robert has been a prominent member of the Vancouver College wrestling and football programs. He discovered V.C.'s team sports quite competitive and well worth the while. Robert's future plans are yet undetermined.

CRAIG DESMOND GEORGE
FRANCIS HARTNETT

Craig came to Canada in 1979 from Rhodesia, and following a year of public school in Richmond, he went to Blackrock College in Ireland, proving himself to be one of the few true Irishmen in V.C. Three years later, he came to Vancouver College, entering grade 11. He participated in cross country and briefly on the track team during that year, and in grade 12, he chose to work on the yearbook staff, directing darkroom operations. Craig's main interests include: photography, skydiving, flying, music, soccer and cycling. He plans to further his education at military college, earning a science degree (providing, of course, SOMEONE turns the light on in physics) and then entering a career in the aviation world. Eventually, he would like to live in a hot, dry country, earn lots of money, and, yes, you guessed it, drive a Porsche, or two, or . . .

FREDRICK ANTHONY HENSEL

"Gretel" came to V.C. in grade 10 from sunny Edmonton, Alberta. As a resident student he enjoys football, hockey and skiing, and watching the Oilers win the Stanley Cup. His future ambitions include teaching R.O. how to grow, P.G. how to play pool and O.G. how to shave. After graduation, Fred plans to further his education at the University of Alberta, somewhere along the lines of law or dentistry.

PATRICK WILLIAM JAN

Patrick came to the College in grade 8 after living a year in Boston. He didn't do much in the school but vege. In his spare time he skis, weight lifts, jogs, swims, and plays raquetball. After grad, Pat plans to pursue a career somewhere in North America.

KEVIN JORDAN

"Animal" has been at V.C. for two years which he has enjoyed as a resident student. Key plans to go on in university, and afterwards, gain weight and develop a tan. He also plans to teach "Gynanny Bars" to fence-jump and light his own cigarettes. During his two year stay in the dorm, Kevin has made many acquaintances, and he reminisces of good times with R.O., F.H. our late starter Mr. Adams, Andrew, the "cute little cappuchino guy", Mr. Smulders' formidable hair, K.L., J.S., and of course, "Gynanny Bars", and Mr. Freire, who's doing admirably. He'd like to say "Hi" to R.A., H.H., N.L., and L.L. back home. Kevin wants to buy a blue Suzuki with a hole in it this summer and go to Earl's Place for soup.

MICHAEL THOMAS JURICIC

Mike has been attending this illustrious academic institution since grade eight, having sustained a rather successful tour at Sussex Elementary. His primary hobby is the collecting of rare Canadian postage stamps, and his favourite sports are soccer, tennis, and badminton. One of the foremost experts in the field of Bond, he also enjoys a good Eastwood film as well. After graduation, Mike hopes to attend Dalhousie Law School, and accomplish his prime objective in the field of political science. He hopes to further his education in the field of law at U.B.C. or S.F.U.. He would also like to thank all those who made his stay at College a successful and enjoyable experience.

BILL KELLY

Bill or known in recent years as "Bonker" is a resident of the rainy North Shore. Bill has been at the College since grade eight and has supported the school through athletics, student council and volunteering. Bill is interested in sports, girls and making money. His hobbies include a vast comic book collection and a promising record collection of Rap, Reggae and other assorted music. If all else fails Adrian will probably continue his education in California where the weather is more agreeable to his keen senses. WALKATHON

1984

Even though it rained for the first time during our annual walkathon, the spirit of the student body and staff members wasn't dampened a bit. This was shown by the amount of over $35,000 which was raised to purchase much needed items such as a small bus, a new portable PA system, and a new scoreboard. Our special thanks to Brother Basil for organizing a very successful fund-raising event.

PAPAL VISIT

Pope John Paul II was in B.C. for only 19 hours, arriving shortly after 2 PM Tuesday September 18, and departing at 8 AM the next morning. His presence drew upwards of 300,000 people who either made the pilgrimage to Abbotsford, saw his motorcade through the city or filled B.C. Place for the Celebration of Life event.

The 3 hour mass at Abbotsford, united all, the Catholic faithful, those of other religions and those who have no religious affiliation, by "winning them with his love". Of our home "between the mountains and the sea" the Pope said, "It is here that you live and work, striving to build a suitable human habitat and a just society; it is here that you struggle to solve the social problems that have become so much a part of the fabric of life in these parts."

The roar that greeted his arrival into B.C. Place was one of pure joy. For many it was a once in a life time opportunity: a truly emotional event. The Pope was beautiful, as he waved back, beamed, smiled and blessed the more than 65,000. The thousands of entertainers on the field level, including several hundreds of students from V.C., performed a dazzling spectacle that, together with the words of the Pope, will live in our hearts and minds forever.

The Pope's visit, the largest outpouring of joy and affection ever witnessed in this province, is most accurately summed up and best describes the general feeling conveyed by all, in the words of V.C. grad '33, Archbishop James Carney: "HOLY FATHER . . . WE LOVE YOU."

FINE ARTS

MUSIC TO OUR EARS

The Vancouver College band is a lively highlight of the V.C. program. Headed by a fine instructor, Mr. Gordon Olson, the band has been a great success this year, developing the student's individual talents as well as group musical coordination. Everyday, young musicians meet in a well-equipped band room to practice some of the many pieces in the program. Over 100 students are involved in the band from grade 4-12. It is divided into the Concert band, Stage band and the Jazz band. At spring the concert band planned an exchange trip to the States. They went as far as Portland. Also during this time, about 25 students entered such competitions as the Kiwanis and the Chancellor music festival. The band generously gave their time to add to the excitement of the basketball and football games. They also prepared for a superb Christmas and Spring concert. We look forward to the music of the V.C. band next year. Until then, keep up the good work musicians, and keep in tune!

Learning . . .

The fine arts department increases the visual communication ability, imagination and creativity of the student as well as being responsible for the posters in the school. Painting, clay work, collage and silk screening were some of the media used in art 10, 11 and 12 taught by Mrs. Davis. We can't forget to mention the V.A.G. tour in October. The lively grade 8's and 9's were introduced to art through a foundation course by Bro. Wood and Mr. Adams. They worked on many projects such as mosaics and, if you remember, the stained glass window project at Christmas. This required organized team work and, as Mr. Adams put it, they were a very vibrant group. Industrial education headed by Mr. Carlos, constitutes another sector of the department. Drafting is a major part of the course which later helped the students with their special projects using the various machines provided by the school.

ORGANIZATIONS

This year's Collegian was produced by a dedicated group of students, under the leadership of Editor Brian Pearson, Assistant Editor Peter Takacs, and moderator Br. English. The year was wrought with chaos, as headlines came and passed, but, for the most part, it was an extremely rewarding experience. The year began with a very successful ad campaign, organized and carried out by Stephen Lissack. After the funds were "secured", the workload was passed on to the photography, darkroom, typing and layout staffs. The crew of the '85 Collegian hope that this book is a sincere reflection of life at Vancouver College.

1) Yearbook discipline - severe, unwavering efficiency. 2) "John! Look at this one!" 3) "Another tough day, Brian?" 4) "THIS time I'll get it right!"

LEADERSHIP

The students of Vancouver College are a spirited group, but a group is nothing without leadership. This is the purpose of the Student Council, a vital link between the student body and the faculty. The Council serves to foster this spirit, promoting the Christian and educational atmosphere of the school. This year's executive was comprised of President Pat Guzman, Vice-President Jason Doolan, and Secretary-Treasurer Mark Brown. The council was quite successful in its many endeavours, from the missions and the Ethiopian Fund Drive to the numerous dances, all extremely popular. All the class Presidents thoroughly enjoyed working with the executive and serving the school through Student Council.

LETTERMEN

To win a letter at V.C. is recognition that a student-athlete has excelled, and that his participation has made a significant contribution to one of the Major Sports. A letter is not an award for participation; it is an award given only to those who have displayed a spirit of sacrifice and commitment.

The V.C. Lettermen's association has seen a rebirth in the past three years, after having faded into relative obscurity. Under the direction of the moderator, Mr. Burke, the Lettermen have become active in various aspects of the life of the school, especially those related to athletics. They are responsible for organizing and running pep rallies, for promoting the various athletic events, and for such things as taking tickets and ushering at the football and basketball games.

The VoiCe of the student body, this year's newspaper represents a vast improvement over the past, when it served as little more than an informal hobby. Through the efforts of Editor Tim Fagan, under the direction of Mr. Burke, the VoiCe has re-established itself as an important part of the Vancouver College lifestyle. This year's staff introduced many innovative and productive ideas, including the use of the school's computers for editing and uniform print style; in addition, with the aid of a grant from the student council, the paper was professionally printed. The feeling is that the 1985 VoiCe is merely the beginning to even greater things in the years to come. Other staff deserving of mention include Assistant Editor Ed Lopez, Sports Editor Greg Fruno, Graphic Designer Marty Lopez, and Art Director Jim Fagan.

In much the same manner as the senior newspaper acts as the voice of the high school population, the Echo serves to display the spirit of the next generation. Under moderator Mrs. Kim, the elementary students published several editions, each a unique experience in teamwork and cooperation. The Echo provides a valuable foundation for those younger students who intend to eventually join the Voice or Collegian staffs. In the words of one of the students, "The Echo is great!"

The Varsity Football team had the unique privilege this year of discovering through personal experience that the trials of Job were no simply metaphorical excesses on the part of the Biblical writer. They were "plagued" with broken ankles and wrists, strained knees, Tonsillitis, Menengitis, muscle spasms, displaced vertebrae, and dislocated joints. As well, two first-string players were lost in the off-season. By season's end, the offensive team had not one of its original starters left. One of the guards 135 pound Rob Harding, had started the year as a defensive halfback. So the record says that they lost since they triumphed only twice out of ten times. By that reasoning, Job was one of the world's all-time top ten losers. But just as surely as Job won, so did the 1984 Fighting Irish. They never gave up on themselves when they had every excuse in the world for doing so. The final game of the year, when they faced powerful (and healthy) Notre Dame; proves the point. The Irish were going to be beaten to the ground; everyone knew that this rag-tag remenant of a team didn't have a chance. The final score was 7-0 for N.D., a victory which was hard won and in doubt right up until the final whistle. It was a tough year for the Irish. Their spirit and determination deserved a better reward.

J.V. FOOTBALL 84

The Junior Varsity Football team of 1984 had a very successful season on every scale of achievement. A 10-0 record became 11-1 only by a three point margin with 18 seconds showing in the Provincial Final. Very little was really lost. The team was also successful at rising above setbacks like injury and illness to discover new potential in its roster. Talent could definitely be seen as a strong suit in this years team.

Under the leadership of coach Jim Canil and Pat Toth the team succeeded at working together as an exciting spirit-provoking unit of Vancouver College. Special thanks must be given to coaches Jeff Seymour, Peter Jeffrey and Yorg Groman. Their efforts produced a more efficient and knowledgeable coaching force.

All the members of this year's Junior Varsity Football squad can feel proud of their true success as both a football team and a valuable part of Vancouver College.

Under the coaching of Kevin McLaughlin and Craig Mitchell the swim team placed in the top 6 at the regional meet out of a total of 20 teams. We had a relatively young and inexperienced team this year but due to the training and hard work our program was a success.

A total of 16 swimmers made it to the provincials but six of these athletes were unable to compete due to injuries and prior engagements. Congratulations to Mike and Bruce Carpenter, Turlough O'Hare, Sean Swain & Jimmy Scott who made outstanding contributions to the team. This is the first year that we have really had a swim team and, with more experience and training, our swim team could go a long way.

The Varsity Soccer team at V.C. showed what team spirit was all about this season by winning 5 of their 6 games, the only loss came when half of the starters were out with injuries. The Independent League Cup was won in overtime against St. Pats. The fans, freezing on the sidelines, never gave up even though the Irish were down 2-1. They were not to be disappointed, with less than 40 seconds on the clock Adrian Schwarz scored the tying goal on a brilliant shot. Just seconds into overtime Stuart Gray scored to end the game. The defense, which withstood tremendous pressure throughout the game was anchored by two seniors, Paul Clur and Mark Donaldson along with their goalie Drew Gallagher. The team's success was attributed to great effort and time put in by their coach, Mr. Devenport, great leadership by Mark Bragagnolo and the superb performance by all the players.

Last November Coach Farenholtz predicted that the Irish would finish 1st in our league and place in the Top 8 in the Provincial Tournament. The league prediction was fulfilled but only with a play-off game and a last-second shot by John Donald to provide the Irish with their second consecutive league championship. Their provincial expectations were derailed when the Oak Bay "Bays" gathered a loose ball and scored five points in the last four seconds of play. The team never regrouped and lost their next game 83-80 and finished the season as "participants" in the Provincial Tourney. Highlights of the year were the victories over our league rivals and the powerful team play in defeating the Killarney "Cougars", the Abbotsford "Panthers"; and our trips to the Victoria and Kelowna tournaments. The team will be remembered for its exciting, unpredictable, close finishes; the explosive play of Chuck Winternitz, and prolific scoring of Sean Beattie. Good luck to all graduating athletes.

The best ever J.V. Team ever assembled at Vancouver College took to the court in 1984-85. In the beginning, everyone was enthusiastic about the Junior Irish and for good reasons. They were tall, athletic and showed the skills necessary to win the title. They were the talk of the school and the teams that they encountered. Opposing teams dreamed of defeating the Irish but none were successful as they won the Provincial Championship in Abbotsford on March 9, 1985. Their record - a phenomenal 38-0. The road to a championship is never easy but the skill and grace which the Irish showed made it look easy. They showed talent, poise and unselfishness during the tournament and gave Irish supporters a reason to believe in the future. They were the best J.V. team the school had ever seen.

GRADE 9 BASKETBALL

The 1984-85 Grade Nine "Irish" Basketball Season was one characterized by long, hard hours of practice and a lot of good tough competition.

All of the players on the team showed incredible devotion in turning out for seemingly neverending weekly, weekend and holiday practise sessions. When the Irish weren't practising as a team - which wasn't very often - they could often be found in the gym or Cartier Hall punching in extra practice on their own time.

As relief or a change of pace from the rigor of the routine, the team sought out the most challenging competition they could find on both sides of the border. The "Irish" played seven matches against American teams and while they only won one of these, they competed very respectably in the six other games, losing two of them by a basket in the dying seconds of play. The grade nines also engaged in tough competition when they participated in the Junior Varsity "Emerald Tournament" here at Vancouver College. Playing our own J.V. Team first, they lost a 70-39 decision, and then they met John Barsby, losing that match 54-38. Both of these J.V. teams went on to finish first and second in the province, respectively. In games against teams of their own age group here in the lower mainland, the grades nines posted a record of 11-4. They lost twice to Palmer, once to St. Thomas More - while defeating them on two other occasions - and once to a select team composed of players from Vancouver, North Vancouver and Burnaby.

With even just a cursory glance at the grade nine's schedule, it becomes apparent that the team's main objective was not to be able to boast an awesome win-loss record at the end of the season. But rather, their ultimate goal was to improve, and improve they did. Looking toward the future, they practiced hard and played teams who were equal to or better than them, so as to challenge themselves to mature and develop at the quickest possible rate.

The Moving Game

MAKE THE RIGHT MOVES WITH A.E. LePAGE

Canadian families, companies, offices, factories are constantly on the move - and not just around the same neighbourhood either. People and businesses in Canada are shifting from city to rural setting, from one part of the country to another. Coast to coast and even country to country.

That's why Canadians require a company like A.E. LePage and our Coast to Coast Real Estate Service.

More than 130 associate brokers provide expert advice and assistance in complex property transactions and corporate relocations. Selling, buying, investing - we handle it all with a game plan that's right for your needs.

And we do it anywhere you want to go in North America.

When it's your move - ask a pro. Because in the Moving Game, the stakes are high.

These include B.C.'s regional colleges, as well as B.C.I.T., Pacific Vocational Institute, Simon Fraser University, U.B.C., University of Victoria, Emily Carr College of Art, and Trinity Western College.

Who is eligible? Awards are designed primarily for second year undergraduate students, although first year students may be accepted in some cases. At U.B.C., the awards are directed to those undertaking graduate studies only. Find out more about B.C.
